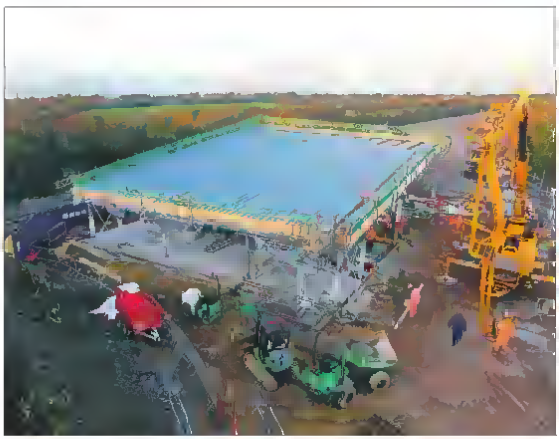
ALL ABOARD FOR OXFORD PARKWAY'S FIRST TRAINS



• Pictures of the Oxford Parkway station build progressing next to the A34 from last year (left) compared to April 29 this year (right) ahead of its opening this October

By Adam Flinn

OXFORDSHIRE S first new train station in more than 70 years will open on October 26 operator Chiltern Railways has announced.

Oxford Parkway is being built next to Water Eaton Park and Ride where it will link the city to London Marylebone

It will open on the same day as the rebuilt Bicester Town station now rebranded as Bicester Village that is on the same £130m line as Oxford Parkway

Chiltern Railways managing director Rob Brighouse said "We re delighted to be able to announce the official opening date for the new Oxford Parkway to London rail link

"The line will transform travel in Oxfordshire, helping passengers avoid city centre traffic congestion and benefit from more convenient journeys both to and from London.

"The project is the first new rail link between a major British city and London in over 100 years and will bring significant economic benefit to the region.'

Oxford Parkway will have parking for 800 cars 150 bikes and make use of the buses accessing the nearby park and ride

The Bicester Village station will have two platforms and rebuilt car park as well as improvements to the approach road.

Richard Stow chairman of campaign group Railfuture's Thames Valley branch said "We can t wait for October 26 rail users have been waiting 30 years for this

"It will make it dramatically easier to get to London and High Wycombe from Oxford particularly as it can be so difficult to get to Oxford s city station "

He added "More importantly the line through Reading has been plagued with unreliability for the last year or two so this will provide a much more reliable route "

Teen sentenced after student sex assault

By Loughlan Campbell
loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

THE 17 year old who sexually assaulted Oxford University student Ione Wells has been given a 24 month detention and training order after he was sentenced yesterday at Highbury Corner Magistrate's Court

The teenager who cannot be named for legal reasons was also ordered to sign on the Sex Offenders Register for five years after he pleaded guilty to one count of sexual assault at the first hearing back on April 13

The defendant followed 20 year old Ione home in the early hours of April 11 and attacked her near her home in the Primrose Hill area.

Ione's screams alerted the nearby neighbours which led to the teenager running off before he was arrested shortly after

Geraint Evans Crown Prosecution Service London deputy chief crown prosecutor said. "Ione has shown real courage throughout this case this was a terrifying attack which no one should have to experience"

The sentence given to the teenager means that he will spend 12 months in custody before spending the next year on licence

Miss Wells has waived her right to anonymity to launch the #NotGuilty campaign, which encourages victims to come forward as the assaults are never the fault of the victim

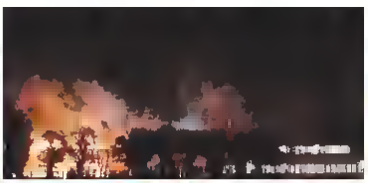
Ione wrote an open letter published in The Cherwell a newspaper by Oxford University students that sparked a strong public reaction to her assault

The emotionally worded letter describes the ordeal that Iona faced stating "When you pushed me to my knees until my face bled when I wrestled with your hand just enough so that I could scream..."

The letter was written for those that have equally been affected and should act as support for them to come forward

The letter reads "This letter is not really for you at all but for the victims of attempted or perpetrated serious sexual assault and every member of their communities"

Arson accused admits causing SODC office blaze



The blaze that engulfed SODC and Vale of White Horse offices in Crowmarsh Gifford

Firefighters hosing down the flames at the decimated SODC and Vale of White Horse offices

THE man accused of burning down South Oxfordshire District Council's offices back in January admitted starting the fires at a hearing at Oxford Crown Court last Thursday

Andrew Main, 47, of Roke marsh near Watlingford pleaded guilty to four counts of arson in a plea and case management hearing.

He also pleaded not guilty to a further charge of arson with intent to endanger life

Main was charged after three fires broke out overnight at South Oxfordshire and Vale of White Horse District Council's shared offices in Crowmarsh Gifford on January 15

The charges also relate to a fire at Howard Chadwick Funeral Service in Crowmarsh Gifford and a thatched house in Quakers Corner Roke Marsh which started 10 minutes from each other shortly after 3am on the day

Main's defence barrister Adrian Ames previously told the court on April 16 that Main was suffering from psychosis but he had been ruled fit to plea prior to the hearing

The accused had previously appeared in court on January 30 via a video link at Bullingdon Prison but had refused to speak.

Main will appear at the court on May 29 after Judge Ian Pringle ordered a further psychiatric report

Randolph Hotel reopens after devastating blaze

OXFORD'S historic Randolph Hotel reopened its doors for the first time yesterday since a blaze broke out in the ground floor kitchen on April 17.

The fire is believed to have started due to flambé cooking which was sucked up through the kitchen's extractor fan.

The reopening was delayed after it was originally set to be open last Saturday.

However more building repairs were required before the hotel could return to normal routine and the cost of damage to the hotel is still unknown.

A temporary kitchen has been built for the hotel and every single room in the hotel has been cleaned in order for business to resume.

Jonathan Dawson, the regional managing director responsible for the Macdonald Randolph Hotel said: "We are delighted that Macdonald Randolph Hotel has reopened its doors.

"The £5.6million investment programme which had started in the hotel just prior to the fire will also re-commence.

"We would like to thank Oxfordshire Fire and Rescue, the hotel team, the local Oxford community and the contractors for all their support and efforts over the last few weeks."

The grade II listed luxury hotel is believed to have been extensively repaired as the fire damaged the roof structure behind it and scaffolding was required to make the area safe.

More than 80 people were evacuated from the hotel on the day and there were no major injuries reported from the scene.

Guests and staff had been evacuated from neighbouring buildings with a total of 14 fire engines called to the scene after a call at 4.47pm on the Friday.

Three people were assessed by paramedics from South Central Ambulance Service at the scene and did not require any further medical treatment.

The hotel's damaged areas are boarded off while the repairs continue to be carried out but 110 of the hotel's 156 are thought to be available from yesterday.

OXFORDSHIRE DECIDES: ELECTION SPECIAL

VOTERS are heading to the polls today as they decide who will be their chosen representative in Parliament for the next five years.

Oxfordshire has six seats up for grabs: Oxford East, Oxford West and Abingdon, Witney, Wantage, Henley and Banbury.

Election candidates have been out in force campaigning over the past month as they compete for votes – door knocking, speaking at events and taking part in dozens of hustings debates across the county.

At the 2010 elections the Conservative Party won five of the county's seats, with Labour's Andrew Smith triumphant in Oxford East.

The Liberal Democrats will be fighting to reclaim the Oxford West and Abingdon seat, which fell to Conservative Nicola Blackwood by less than 200 votes at the last election.

Becca Ritchie Timms 28 visiting from Norwich said "I'm in love with the city's folk traditions and the vibe is similar to that of the Notting Hill Carnival."

Casper Beentjes 22 Oxford student from Holland, said "I think the after party is much more interesting with people out dancing in the streets. It's typically British."

Saumya Jetley 18 Oxford student from India said, "You feel a kinship with the people around you like you're all part of a single moment in history. We students like a bit of revelry."

Revellers dance in Oxford's May Day

OXFORD partied in unison to welcome the arrival of spring at the annual May Day celebrations on Friday morning.

Revellers trawled from the city's bars with tired eyes to join the mass hub of the early morning risers which wrapped itself around Magdalen Tower and across Magdalen Bridge.

A crowd of about 5,000 gathered under the tower before 6am, some with drinks in hand and others scanning the scene videoing every moment.

The bells struck and at once the noise died to a respectful hum as choristers of the Magdalen College choir sung the centuries-old Hymnus Eucharisticus as the sun rose.

Thousands below looked up in awe, with cheers filling the air whenever the singing paused.

The singing kick started a cacophonous party atmosphere as the thousands split into dancing parties.

John Tinsman, an Oxford University student from Iowa said: "This is truly a day where students can let our hair down."

Students who managed to stay up all night ran through High Street as brass band Folks of Plenty took centre stage marching along the road with residents dancing alongside them.

Oxford's folk music scene was on show as groups emerged from street corners encouraging a party atmosphere.

Rachel Capell, Oxford City Council (OCC)'s events and international links officer said: "Events like this unite the whole city which is really wonderful there is nothing quite like it anywhere else in the country."

Crowds spread through the city centre and Morris dancing drew spectators to the historic Radcliffe Camera whilst others linked arms to the music.

May Day dates to the 1600s when a song composed by a fellow of Magdalen College was sung at the top of the college's tower by 18 college choristers.

The tradition continued and the hymn has been sung every year since as the sun rises on May 1 followed by bells ringing out around the city.

Peter McQuitty, OCC's head of policy, culture and communications, said: "The morning provides magical moments – beautiful singing, architecture and the promise of spring."

May Day success

ORGANISERS praised the way Oxford handled May Day after the reoccurrence of accidents in recent years.

No incidents were reported during Friday's day of celebration planned Oxford City Council.

Stewards kept watch to prevent residents jumping into the river which has led to several incidents in the past, and handled a 5,000 strong crowd.

Rachel Capell, Oxford City Council's (OCC) events and international links officer said: "It's gone really well, everybody seemed to be really enjoying it and it was such a comfortable atmosphere that felt incredibly traditional.

"It's a lot of organisation for such a small moment though the impact of it on the city is huge."

She added crowds had been respectful during Magdalen choir's performance. "You could hear a pindrop just before the choir sang, it was a beautiful moment.

"Events like this have the opportunity to unite the whole city and single out the 'Englishness' of Oxford."

Peter McQuitty OCC's head of policy, culture and communications said: "The council is proud to be able to support and promote activities like this across the city."

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes... not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director James Miller feels that it's all about service.

"Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass in a fraction of the cost of a new window. In any type of frame and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money although that obviously helps.

Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a wisonly perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as it whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which is a way to very sad for the service industry as a whole.

Cloudy2Clear service Oxfordshire from their local depots and found is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. "The truths that it is not just the persons satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes great business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated."

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Jamie a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help.

'Residents say no to green belt building'

By Adam Flinn
adam@typlerpressnewspapers.co.uk

MORE than three quarters of Oxfordshire s population does not think the green bell should be built on according to the Campaign to Protect Rural England (CPRE) Oxfordshire

Oxfordshire s councils are reviewing the green bell around Oxford as they try to identify land la build housing

But CPRE Oxfordshire said a poll they conducted found 70 per cenl ol residents believe the green belt should stay unde veloped with just 12 per cent saying development within it should be permitted.

Helen Marshall director ol CPRE Oxfordshire said "Pul simply this research is a ringing endorsement that the general public are supportive of retain ing the Oxford green belt.

'It is time now lor our local councils to accept that the over whelming majority of us want the gre en belt to remain open and particularly not used lor new housing development"

Last year Oxfordshire s Growth Board commissioned the Strategic Housing Market

• The land proposed for development at Grenoble Road

Assessment (SHMA) which said that 100 000 new houses would be needed across the county within the next 16 years

The SHMA added that between 24 000 and 32,000 of those homes would be needed in Oxford itself

But Ms Marshall added "The fact is, enough houses are already being built in the city to meet the housing needs of families already here and il necessary the city has room for thousands more without using green bell land"

The Oxford green belt extends a round the city as far as Abing don and Kidlington.

One ol the sites being con sidered for development in the green belt is land south ol Gre noble Road where Oxford City Council are preparing plans for 4,000 homes on the site

And Bob Price, leader ol the city council, said thal develop ments like Grenoble Road were necessary lo help meel Oxford s housing need.

He said. "The housing crisis in Oxford is sufficiently dramatic lor a very many people who want lo rent or to buy they simply can l afford it

'The green belt wasn l meant to be a landscape designation even it was meant to be a plan ning requirement that any changes to the green belt could be carefully examined before they went through

"In the context ol Oxford, the particular piece ol land south of Grenoble Road is of low land scape value – it has a sewage works next to it and electricity pylons running across it From that point ol view It s exactly the kind ol thing which the legisla tion allows to be reviewed.

Work begins on new £3.5m park and ride

WORK on a new £3 5m Bices ter Park and Ride scheme will begin early this month with a targel finish date before Christmas

It will have 550 parking spaces and be the first al its kind in Oxfordshire outside Oxford.

It is to be built on the A41 at Vendee Drive to tackle traffic congestion in the town.

Earlier this year prepara tory work began on the site involving drain clearance and hedge cutting

Archaeological work has started before the build proper begins this month.

Mark Kemp deputy direc tor in Oxfordshire County Council s environment and economy directorate said. "A lot of work has been progress ing in the background and it will be good to see the project gather pace We anlicipals the park and ride to be in opere tion before the busy Christ mas period, which is an ideal time given how busy the town is during those weeks"

Traffic was notoriously cha otic in Bicester Village last Christmas with shoppers queuing for miles to get into the shopping centre

The park and ride was a condition of Bicesler Village s expansion plans

Building a world-class city for everyone

Schools chain changes its Isis name

AN OXFORD-BASED chain of language schools and education providers has had to re-brand due to the negative connotations its name implied

Blake Morgan's intellectual property team have carried out clearance searches for Isis Education which has led to it changing its name to Oxford International Education Group

The chain's original name was taken from the part of the River Thames that flows through Oxford

Events in Syria and Iraq have led to difficulties for the schools staff during international events as they were branded T shirts with the chain's former name

The chain runs thousands of courses for overseas students and has seen setbacks in recruiting students particularly those from the Middle East

Jill Bambridge of the intellectual property team said "The organisation is among a number of organisations that have felt compelled to change their name

"When a organisations makes any changes to its name its important that potential rights issues are thoroughly researched

Council u-turn on Littlemore homes

By Adam Flinn
adam@oxfordmailnewspapers.co.uk

PLANS to build 270 homes in Littlemore will now go ahead after their refusal was overturned by Oxford City Council last week.

Last month the council's East Area Planning Committee had voted to turn down the proposals for the site south of Armstrong Road citing concerns of overdevelopment

But the decision was called in to be looked at again and last Wednesday the Planning Review Committee decided by five votes to two to grant the development outline planning permission

The was despite concerns being raised about a lack of public transport connections and the nearby road infrastructure

The committee's chair James Fry who voted in favour of the application said: "We had a very difficult choice

"We need in the city to build more houses and I was swayed by the argument that we as a city should do our bit in terms of housing because we are going to be requesting the neighbouring councils to absorb a chunk of Oxford's extra housing needs

"The main objections were all about transport but it was ultimately a choice between residents who objected strongly to the impact on transport and the need for housing."

• The land south of Armstrong Road

Oxford University Hospitals NHS Trust submitted the plans to the council as the land in question was formerly used by Littlemore Hospital.

They are looking to build 104 houses and 166 flats on the land going up to five storeys in height

Mark Trumper the trust's director of development and the estate said: "The trust is very pleased that the planning application was approved.

"This will deliver much needed new housing and help Oxford University Hospitals NHS Trust to accelerate key health care development for the benefit of Oxfordshire residents."

Starters orders for Bike Oxford

The routes of which there is a choice of 25 50 and 100 miles will go through Oxford before heading north into the countryside

Jon Rovis, of Cowley Road Condors cycling club said: "Last year it was a fantastic social cycling event and the set up in the event village was really nice to sit and reminisce after the event."

Feed stations will be set up along the route and riders will be presented with finishers medals

Paul Merton and co.

• Paul Merton

KNOWN for his improvisation skills and very loud shirts Paul Merton will be putting guests on the spot when his Impro Chums visit Oxford's New Theatre tomorrow evening (Friday May 8

The witty 57 year old along with fellow comics Lee Simpson Richard Vranch Mike McShane and Paul's wife Suki Webster will take suggestions from the audience to create wacky scenarios

By James Richings
jamesr@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Because of the nature of improv s different show is guaranteed every night

"We don't have to learn any lines we can do it all off the top of our heads and that's an absolute joy," Paul said

"People ask me why I do the Comedy Store Players and the Impro Chums and the answer is that it keeps me match-fit

"If I go away on holiday for two weeks, I come back to find that everyone else has sped up 10 per cent and it takes me until the interval to catch up and jump on the bus

"There is such a thrill in the notion of playing, say, a Bulgarian lion-tamer trying to explain in fractured Spanish that the yoghurt in the fridge has gone off

"It's a complete delight"

The comic who is perhaps best known for being a panellist on the satirical TV show Have I Got News For You was first inspired to enter comedy after watching circus clowns perform at a very young age

However after leaving school with A-Levels in English and History the funnyman worked as a clerical officer for seven years before making his way into show business which is where he changed his name from Paul Martin to Paul Merton upon joining equity

Since then the comedian hasn't looked back and has starred in many comedy shows including the British version of popular improvisation show Whose Line Is It Anyway?

"As a child, you don't need much," Paul revealed

"I remember as a young boy pushing a toy car up an armchair and suddenly it became a mountain Kids often unpack a Christmas present and end up playing with the box.

"Impro is like playtime – the bit at school you liked!

"If you spark each other off in improvisation it creates a really good spirit

"It's the spirit of the playground."

"I feel I should say at the end of every show don't worry this will never happen again!"

The show is suitable for anyone over the age of 16 and begins at 8pm.

Uninformed Opinions

ACTRESS, writer and comedienne Jo Caulfield will be stopping off at The Cornerstone Arts Centre in Didcot this Saturday May 9

The 51 year-old will be visiting the Station Road venue as part of her 'Uninformed Opinions' tour.

"If you like to shout at the TV then this is the show for you," Jo told the Guardian.

"'Uninformed Opinions' takes a look at what we know, what we don't know, who we think should keep quiet and as usual, some very embarrassing confessions revealing my own stupidity.

"I am constantly amazed by the amount of arrogant and ignorant people there are in society. I'm an idiot but I know it.

These people don't know even know they're idiots and, even more scarily, some of them are in charge."

Deciding she wanted to get into comedy, the comic worked as a waitress during the day, saved up her tips, bought a small mic and amp and opened her own comedy club in Hampstead.

By James Richings
jamesr@bylinemagazine.co.uk

Then when she met her future partner the couple agreed a two year plan to either make it as successful comedians or give it up.

After a successful run of gigs, the comic found herself writing for Graham Norton and doing a BBC Radio 4 show, whilst also appearing on shows such as 'Mock the Week', 'Have I Got News For You' and regularly appearing at The Edinburgh Fringe Festival.

"I had no idea what I was doing," Jo said.

"I became hooked on stand up from the very first time I did it and, luckily, I had nothing to fall back on.

"I have no other skilled job I can do, so I just kept at it."

Saturday's show starts at 8pm.

Wilder and Mole's big journey home

CREATED and performed by the Birdsnest Theatre Company children's production 'My Friend Mole' will be making its way to Didcot's Cornerstone Arts Centre on May 10

The comical and light-hearted fable will see a young girl called Wilder and her imaginary best friend Mole try and leave Wilder's house as it's incredibly noisy

The youngster then decides that the best place to escape to is Mole's house, which is where the two embark on a mission to get to Mole's home in the middle of the night

"We see theatre for young children as an opportunity for them to really indulge their imaginations," co-founder, co-director and designer Emily Austen told the Guardian.

We want our shows to create the atmosphere of a bedtime story – an environment where a child feels safe and relaxed, a space where they and their parents or carers can be carried away, lost in the story.

By James Richings
jamesr@nyhenerspaper.co.uk

"We believe in making theatre which captures the imagination of all who come see it.

"So if it's a good show then everyone will enjoy it – no matter how old you are.

"The subject matter is focused on a theme more relevant to children but we believe it's a production that all can enjoy."

Formed back in 2011, the Birdsnest Theatre Company have put on three different shows with their first two productions 'Wash and Blown Away' achieving relative success when the shows toured across the UK a couple of years ago.

Its popularity in Great Britain proved to be key for the relatively new theatre company as both plays then made their European debut tours and being performed in the Netherlands, Romania and Italy.

But despite the glamour of performing continentally, Emily revealed that the theatre company are looking forward to be returning to the Station Road venue.

"Cornerstone was one of the first theatres to show our work on the first tour of our first show so we're really excited to be returning!" she said.

"There is a mutual recognition to deliver high quality work for very young children and Cornerstone really understood that."

Two shows are taking place at 11am and 2pm and the production is suitable for children over the age of three.

www.voc.org.uk
If you enjoy a new outdoor activity for all the family why not give orienteering a go. This event is organised by Thames Valley Orienteering Club and it's ideal for families and children.
There will be several courses and plenty of help on hand for newcomers. There will be six courses to choose from from 1km up to 5km taking around 30-75 mins to complete plus a special string course for very young children where they follow a trail of string to find fun characters.
If you've never tried orienteering before it's a bit like a treasure hunt to find a series of checkpoints around your chosen course. They're marked by flags on the ground and you register each one with an electronic timing chip to record your progress and prove you've been to them. This challenge arises by there being no set route to be seen the checkpoints and you have to choose your own way using a detailed orienteering map of the park.
It's great fun and the events are supported by Oxford City Council and Up and Running in Oxford who have supplied some great prizes. Come along any time between 10 00am to 11 30am and don't forget your sense of adventure! The cost is £5 per family group or £2 for solo juniors

Volvo release new twin engine model

FIRST introduced at the 2002 North American International Auto Show, the Volvo XC90 has gone on to become Volvo's top-selling vehicle in the US, selling over 85,884 units

Now after its success over the last 13 years the Swedish manufacturer has announced that a plug-in hybrid of the vehicle has been introduced for petrol heads to buy this year the Volvo XC90 T8 Twin Engine

It can go from 0 to 62mph in 5.8 seconds

The XC90 T8 also offers five different driving modes that deliver a range of performance and efficiency-enhancing characteristics

Using either a scroll wheel on the centre console or a touchscreen on the dashboard, drivers can choose from the Hybrid, Pure Electric, Power, AWD or Save mode.

The Hybrid mode is the default mode, which is suitable for everyday use.

The new Volvo XC90 T8 Twin Engine

REVIEW: Volvo XC90 T8 Twin Engine

By James Richings

The vehicle will automatically alternate between drawing power from the two-litre four cylinder Drive-E engine and the electric motor for the best fuel consumption.

Pure Electric is when the high-voltage battery is fully charged, it serves as the car's sole energy source.

The XC90 T8 has a range of up to 28 miles using just electricity.

A regenerative braking system also means it is super efficient in the stop-and-go traffic of city environments.

If more power is needed, the Drive-E combustion engine starts up automatically. When in the Power mode, drivers get the combined performance of the combustion engine and the electric motor.

On start up, the SUV takes advantage of the electric motor's superior response and instant torque curve, while the combustion engine gets up to speed.

This combination offers better torque at lower revs, equivalent to that of a large displacement engine like the V8.

The AWD mode offers constant all wheel drive on demand. The advantage of being able to select AWD manually is that the driver can use it when needed, or choose to save energy for later.

If the battery is charged, save mode allows the driver to "freeze" the battery level and save it for later use with Pure Electric drive. Also, if the battery is low, the driver can use the combustion engine to charge the battery to a certain level for later use with Pure Electric drive.

"We have been working hard to earn our competitive edge and to give our customers the ultimate combination of performance and low fuel consumption," Dr Peter Mertens of the Volvo Car Group said.

"Our Twin Engine technology has enabled us to build on our heritage of efficient powertrain development in a completely new way and thanks to our world class four cylinder engines, we have a clear and leading position."

‘Mr Didcot’: “This club is like my family, it’s a part of me”

JAMIE Mr Didcot Heapy’s career with Didcot Town Football Club has spanned 20 years making 348 appearances scoring 55 goals winning ten trophies and he’s not quite finished yet

Jamie 36 of Newlands Avenue made his debut for The Diddy when he was just 16 in a feisty 2-2 encounter with Cirencester Town FC and has gone on to lead the team as joint-manager with former player Ian Concannon.

Jamie told the Guardian ahead of his testimonial match this weekend “It’s flown by this club has been my whole career and it means absolutely everything to me”

The midfielder who grew up in East Hagbourne has been a part of numerous Diddy teams over the years and has since become an integral part of the club

He said. “I still get that same feeling when I put on the shirt before a game ”

Jamie and Ian both went to Saint Birinus School in Didcot

Jamie couldn’t quite put it into words when speaking about his time with the club but said the highlights of his illustrious career came in the 2004 9 period under manager Stuart Peace

Peace took the club to the Southern League Premier Division and to an FA Vase 3-2 win over AFC Sudbury at White Hart Lane in 2005 in front of a 9 000 strong crowd with Heapy captain on the day

The midfielder said “It was a pleasure to be captain on that day and to lead the team out It was a very special time for the club and it’s definitely something I’ll never forget ”

Jamie admits he’s come to see the club as a family over the years and is humble about the opportunities he’s taken in his time there

Jamie said “To now be a manager and a father figure to the players here is truly fantastic

This club is now its own part of me ”

The joint manager’s bond with Concannon is something that will take the football club in the right direction, stating “We’re hopeful we’ll be the ones that take this club back to the glory days ”

Heapy’s testimonial will take place this Sunday against a side of Reading FC former players

Ardley lift trophy after dominant Ascot performance

ARDLEY United ended the season victorious as they lifted the Bluefin Sports Challenge Cup after they put in a huge team performance to beat Ascot United 2-0 on Monday evening

The result avenged last season's defeat by Ascot as Ardley delivered a victorious per formance albeit with only two substitutes on the bench

Ascot were huge favourites for the game after they fin ished the season five places above Ardley in third

However Ardley delivered arguably their finest perform ance of the season with the underdogs battling away from the first minute

In the 15th minute Kieran Scott and Luke Ingram bam boozled the Ascot defence with quick passing before Scott s deflected shot flew past Ascots s Chris Grace to gift them the lead

Ardley looked for a second straight after with Jon Gard ner and Ingram narrowly coming close to extending the lead

Ascot s first real chance didn t come until shortly before the half time whistle as Ardley's Jack Harding saved well from a fiery Damien Markman shot

Ascot s Daryl Maclean con tinued to be a nuisance to the Ardley defence in the second half but they managed to keep him quiet.

Their hard work paid off as with just over 20 minutes to go, Ingram latched on to Gardner's weighted pass to fire Ardley into a 2 0 lead.

Ardley went on to lift the trophy bringing a memorable end to an indifferent league campaign.

Thunder blast past Oxford

OXFORD RL were dismantled by Newcastle Thunder 36 26 in a ferocious encounter at Kingston Park on Sunday in League 1

Thunder put seven tries past the Oxford RL posts and were the deserved winners in the tense r onfrontation

A Jason Tali brace and dou ble r onversion from man of the match Dayne Craig gave the hosts an early lead before Oxford s Dave Peterson and Danny Thomas rallied for the visitors with two tries, and they drew two points behind with a Nathan Kilson conversion.

The second half saw the hosts shift in gear and leapt into a commanding lead through tries from Stuart Kain, Josh Stoker Craig and Jordan Meads

With a further two conver sions in hand, the hosts were out in the distance with a 26-16 scoreline which looked damning for Oxford.

Sean Morris struck for Oxford soon after, rising highest on a fifth tackle but the Thunder defence blocked any further attempt to cut the deficit.

Thunder then slammed the door on any chance of an Oxford revival as Craig scored his second try before Tom Cap per sealed the points with five minutes to go

Morris did bring some final cheer for the passionate Oxford crowd as he ran from 60 metres out to snatch a fourth Oxford try but it was too late for the Blues as hit back.

SUPER ROOFE STRIKE GIFTS UNITED FINAL GAME WIN

A SUPERSTAR goal from Oxford United's in form forward Kemar Roofe sent fans home dizzy with delight as they finished the season off in style with a 1 0 away win at Newport County on Saturday

Roofe's wonder strike meant United closed their Sky Bet League Two campaign with an impressive eight game unbeaten run to finish 13th out of 24 teams

Roofe's sixth goal in seven matches proved to be the difference between the two sides despite Newport's Mike Flynn being sent off towards the end of the first half.

Michael Appleton's 13th place finish is four places off last season's ninth place and the U's will be hoping that their sixth consecutive League Two season will continue their impressive end of season form come July

Appleton once again played Andy Whing as a defender with

By Loughlan Campbell
loughlanc@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Jonny Mullins still out injured and Whing (who took the armband) once again did a dependable job as the U's back four held firm throughout the 90 minutes

Chey Dunkley and Alex MacDonald both tested Newport keeper Jaime Stephens early on as Roofe rampaged through the defence

However Newport also showed early intent with Miles Storey dragging his shot wide from a corner as County looked to hit United on the counter attack

United keeper Jamie Ashdown was then called into action as he tipped over Storey's effort before United charged the County defence through Roofe on the half hour mark.

Roofe was played in on the right flank by Danny Rose and instead of electing to play top-goalscorer Danny Hylton in, Roofe inexplicably launched a powerful thunderbolt into the top right corner stunning the home crowd

County looked for a reply and Dunkley had to be alert to head County's Kevin Healey header off the line from a corner

County's afternoon then got worse as Flynn's late challenge on Michael Collins after a quickly taken United free kick resulted in a red for the County stalwart

United inevitably dominated possession in the second half but Feely still managed to test Ashdown with another fiery header

Appleton sent on 19 year old youngster Sam Humphreys for his senior debut but he was unable to make much of an impression as Newport threw every man forward in search of an equaliser

Thankfully for United it never came and Appleton's men rejoiced at the whistle

Heads now turn to a summer of recuperation before United look towards an assault on the promotion places.
